ITINERARY A B C D E F

Approximate distance: 2,5 km

Description: From Carrer Ample, this route goes up Carrer Raval to reach the path to Santa Bàrbara. From here it continues to the Cala de Santa Cristina, passing by the Pinya de Rosa Botanical Garden and Cala Treumal. By way of Carrer de Maurí Serra you can connect with Itinerary E. All of the route is asphalted, except for the part climbing up to the Santa Bàrbara pass. From here it runs downhill to the coves.

Some points of interest along the route:

14. Chapel of Santa Bàrbara

This is a group of buildings consisting of the Romanesque-style chapel of Santa Bàrbara, possibly from the 12th C., and a house and a defence tower from the 16th C.

15. Pinya de Rosa Botanical Garden

This botanical station, opened in 1945, now possesses over 7,000 different species. (*)

16. Cala Treumal and Cala de Santa Cristina

The first cove marks the division between the municipal areas of Blanes and Lloret. Both beaches have bars which offer meals during the summer season.

17. Chapel of Santa Cristina

This chapel has a neoclassical altar, and behind it there is a square with the so-called Pi Gros ('big pine'). On the saint's day (24 July), there is a pilgrimage by sea from Lloret de Mar and a festival.

Other possibilities:

- Before taking the path up to Santa Bàrbara, in Carrer Abat Escarré, you can visit the Mont-Ferrant cellars (by prior arrangement). This company has been in operation since 1872 and was the first in Spain to produce the sparkling champagne-type wine known as cava.
